FOR REFLECTION...

At least I saw the Spring
By Pat Mackie

If I could take one good thing
From this time of fear and pain
It would be that I have seen the Spring
As I walked each country lane.

I have seen the swaying bluebells
In a warm and gentle breeze
The changing colours daily
Of our great, majestic trees.

The colours of the wildflowers
Such simple beauty seen
As one by one they came to view
Pink, yellow, blue and green

And most of all the birdsong
Oh! What can I say?
To hear that chorus in the trees
Through April into May.

My worries seemed to fade away
For a moment I was calm
For God's pure beauty of the Spring
Was to my heart a balm.

So thank you God for this great gift
And as blossom fills the air
I'll think of those in sickness
And say a silent prayer.

So through these times of troubles
When church bells couldn't ring
At least I found one good thing
At least I saw the Spring.

St Sofa's

We worship at St Sofa's now
Since Covid came to stay
We don't dress up or do our hair
But still we come to pray!

Our Vicar is a clever chap
A Zoom with his IT
And so we sit down ev'ry week
And meet up virtually!

Our Parish Church stands empty
With praise she does not ring;
But still her people gather round
To pray, and praise, and sing!

The virus is a nasty thing
Yet it has helped us see
The church is NOT a building
But folk like you and me!

The good thing about prayer is that there's only one way to go wrong, and that's not to do it. If prayer at its simplest level is listening to God and talking to Him, you don't need long books to tell you how to do it.

St Alban

On 22 June, the Church remembers St Alban, who was put to death on that day in 250AD, on the site of the town in Hertfordshire that now bears his name and has a splendid cathedral which houses his shrine.

Christianity was struggling to survive in third century Britain under Roman rule. In the middle of the century there were two periods of specific and ruthless persecution. During one of these, Alban, who was not a Christian himself, gave shelter to a Christian priest who was being hunted down by the authorities.

During his stay with Alban, the priest greatly impressed him with the depth and integrity of his faith, and he sought instruction and then baptism. Eventually, however, the soldiers tracked the priest down and he would have been taken away and killed. Alban, however, put on the priest's robes, so that when the soldiers arrived they assumed that he was their prey. The priest was able to continue his ministry, but Alban was taken away, interrogated and eventually charged with promoting a banned religion. All through, he refused to say anything that could implicate anyone else, but (according to an account by the Venerable Bede) boldly confessed his faith in Christ. He was tried, sentenced to death, and executed.

He is widely recognised as the first British martyr, though two Christians were martyred in Wales during the same persecutions. Alban's body was buried near the site of the present town and later became a major place of pilgrimage.

A Prayer of St Columba

*Christ With Us
My dearest Lord,
Be Thou a bright flame before me,
Be Thou a guiding star above me,
Be Thou a smooth path beneath
me,
Be Thou a kindly shepherd behind
me,
Today and evermore*

Trinity Sunday, celebrating our God who is Three Persons

Trying to explain the doctrine of the Trinity has kept many a theologian busy down the centuries. One helpful picture is to imagine the sun shining in the sky. The sun itself – way out there in space, and unapproachable in its fiery majesty – is the Father. The light that flows from it, which gives us life and illuminates all our lives, is the Son. The heat that flows from it, and which gives us all the energy to move and grow, is the Holy Spirit. You cannot have the sun without its light and its heat. The light and the heat are from the sun, are of the sun, and yet are also distinct in themselves, with their own roles to play.

The Bible makes clear that God is One God, who is disclosed in three persons: Father, Son (Jesus Christ) and Holy Spirit. For example:

Deuteronomy 6:4: 'Hear O Israel, The Lord our God, the Lord is one.'

Isaiah 45:22: 'Turn to me and be saved... for I am God, and there is no other.'

Genesis 1:1-2: 'In the beginning God created.... and the Spirit of God was hovering...'

Judges 14:6: 'The Spirit of the Lord came upon him in power...'

John 1:1-3: 'In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. He was with God in the beginning. Through Him all things were made; without Him nothing was made that has been made.'

Luke 24:49 actually manages to squeeze the whole Trinity into one sentence. Jesus tells His disciples: 'I am going to send you what my Father has promised; but stay in the city until you have been clothed with power (the Holy Spirit) from on high.'

In other words, the sun eternally gives off light and heat, and whenever we turn to its brilliant light, we find that warmth and life is there as well.

Richard of Chichester, wanting God more clearly, dearly and nearly Ever wonder where the prayer 'May I know thee more clearly, love thee more dearly, and follow thee more nearly, day by day' comes from? Richard of Chichester, a bishop in the 13th century, wrote it.

He began life as Richard de Wych of Droitwich, the son of a yeoman farmer. But Richard was a studious boy, and after helping his father on the farm for several years, refused an advantageous offer of marriage, and instead made his way to Oxford, and later to Paris and Bologna to study canon law.

In 1235 he returned to Oxford, and was soon appointed Chancellor, where he supported Edmund, Archbishop of Canterbury, in his struggles against King Henry III's misuse of Church funds. After further study to become a priest, Richard was in due course made a bishop himself. He was greatly loved. He was charitable and accessible, both stern and merciful to sinners, extraordinarily generous to those stricken by famine, and a brilliant legislator of his diocese. He decreed that the sacraments were to be administered without payment, Mass celebrated in dignified conditions, the clergy to be chaste, to practise residence, and to wear clerical dress. The laity was obliged to attend Mass on Sundays and holy days, and to know by heart the Hail Mary as well as the Lord's Prayer and the Creed.

Richard was also prominent in preaching the Crusade, which he saw as a call to reopen the Holy Land to pilgrims, not as a political expedition. He died at Dover on 3rd April 1253. In art, Richard of Chichester is represented with a chalice at his feet, in memory of his having once dropped the chalice at Mass! One ancient English church is dedicated to him.

And, of course, he is author of that famous prayer, which runs in full: "Thanks be to thee, my Lord Jesus Christ for all the benefits thou hast given me, for all the pains and insults which thou hast borne for me. O most merciful redeemer, friend and brother, may I know thee more clearly, love thee more dearly and follow thee more nearly, day by day."

No wonder that the doctrine of the Trinity is inexplicable, seeing that the nature of God is incomprehensible. Our faith must assent to what our reason cannot comprehend, otherwise we can never be Christians.

Francis Burkitt, theologian

Light Shining out of Darkness

God moves in a mysterious way,
His wonders to perform;
He plants his footsteps in the sea,
And rides upon the storm.

Deep in unfathomable mines
Of never failing skill;
He treasures up his bright designs,
And works His sovereign will.

Ye fearful saints fresh courage take,
The clouds ye so much dread
Are big with mercy, and shall break
In blessings on your head.

Judge not the Lord by feeble sense,
But trust him for his grace;
Behind a frowning providence,
He hides a smiling face.

His purposes will ripen fast,
Unfolding ev'ry hour;
The bud may have a bitter taste,
But sweet will be the flow'r.

Blind unbelief is sure to err,
And scan his work in vain;
God is his own interpreter,
And he will make it plain.

A Scrubbing Update from Mandy Davies...

Just a little update for you all on the scrubs business!

There are now around 1000 members in the Taunton Scrubbers group! The youngest is a little lad with cystic fibrosis who makes masks usually for his friends and family and the oldest, a lady of 91.

700 of us are producing approximately 600 sets of scrubs every day, alongside caps, gowns, wash bags and headbands. It takes the fastest among us (myself included) about 90 minutes to make a top and trousers but most of us are a little slower. I'm managing 12 sets every week.

We have to date (14 May) delivered over 2000 items to the trust every week.

Personally I'm up to over 50 sets!

Initially we were using fabric donated from old duvet covers but thanks to a grant of £2500 from the Coronavirus Appeal and many donations to our "Go Fund Me" page, we have been able to purchase proper fabric. I myself am working through a 50 metre roll at the moment. We hope to get up to 20 sets out of it!

We had expected demand to drop off by now but in fact it is increasing as the staff are using scrubs more and changing them up to three times a day.

So we don't know how much longer it will continue but we are here to help all the while there is a demand!

Summer Solstice – longest day of the year

June, of course is the month of the summer solstice, the month of the Sun. Sol + stice come from two Latin words meaning 'sun' and 'to stand still'. As the days lengthen, the sun rises higher and higher until it seems to stand still in the sky. The summer solstice results in the longest day and the shortest night of the year. The Northern Hemisphere celebrates in June, and the Southern Hemisphere celebrates in December.

A Canticle for Brother Sun

Praised be You, My Lord, in all Your creatures,
Especially Sir Brother Sun,
Who makes the day and enlightens us through You.
He is lovely and radiant and grand;
And he heralds You, his Most High Lord.

The Story of 'Unsinkable Sam'

John Dale writes:

Right : A pastel portrait of Sam (titled "Oscar, the Bismarck's Cat") by the artist Georgina Shaw-Baker in the possession of the National Maritime Museum, Greenwich.

Barbara and I were adopted by cats some 40 years ago. Similar cat 'friends' will have many stories of these amazing creatures. The cat who earned the name 'Unsinkable Sam' is one of my favourites. The cat survived the sinking of three ships in World War Two. His wartime service certainly used three of his lives!

Unsinkable Sam started his service in the Kriegsmarine, (German Navy) and ended it in the Royal Navy.

The black and white tabby had been owned by an unknown crewman of the German battleship Bismarck. He was on board the ship on 18 May 1941 when it set sail on Operation Rheinübung, Bismarck's first and only mission.

Bismarck

The ship was sunk by British forces on 27 May 1941. Only 118 from its crew of over 2,200 survived. Hours later, Sam was found floating on a board and was picked from the water, the only survivor to be rescued by the homeward-bound British destroyer HMS Cossack. The crew didn't know the cat's name and they named him Oscar.

HMS Cossack

The cat served on board HMS Cossack for the next few months as the ship carried out convoy escort duties in the Mediterranean and north Atlantic. Ultimately, the destroyer was badly damaged by a torpedo, and 139 of its crew were killed.

On 27 October 1941, a day after the tow was slipped, Cossack sank to the west of Gibraltar, and Oscar was found clinging to a piece of plank. He made it and was brought to the shore establishment in Gibraltar.

When they learned what happened, British sailors changed his name to Unsinkable Sam – a fitting name for a cat that survived the sinking of two warships.

Unsinkable Sam was then adopted by the crew of the HMS Ark Royal – ironically, a ship that was instrumental in sinking the Bismarck. When returning from Malta on 14 November 1941, Ark Royal too was torpedoed. Sam was found clinging to a floating plank by a motor launch, and described as "angry but quite unharmed".

After the sinking of the Ark Royal, Sam was transferred to a job on land and spent his days hunting mice in the building of the Governor General in Gibraltar. Eventually, he was sent back to the UK where he remained at a 'Home for Sailors' in Belfast until the end of his earthly days. He passed away peacefully in 1955.

HMS Ark Royal

Cats have it all – admiration, an endless sleep, and company only when they want it.

Rod McKuen

I have studied many philosophers and many cats. The wisdom of cats is infinitely superior.

Hippolyte Taine

In ancient times cats were worshipped as gods; they have not forgotten this.

Terry Pratchett

I had been told that the training procedure with cats was difficult. It's not. Mine had me trained in two days.

How to make your wife more efficient

An efficiency expert was delivering a seminar on time management for a company's junior executives. He concluded the session with a disclaimer: "But whatever you do, do NOT attempt these task-organising tips at home," he said.

When he was asked why not, he explained: "Well, I did a study of my wife's routine of fixing breakfast. I noticed she made a lot of trips between the refrigerator and the stove, the table and the cabinets, each time carrying only one item. So, I told her: 'Darling you are making too many trips back and forth carrying one item at a time. If you would only try carrying several things at once you would be much more efficient.'" He paused.

"Did that save time?" one of the executives asked.

"Actually, yes," the expert answered, "It used to take her 15 minutes to fix my breakfast. Now I get my own in seven minutes."

"Mike composes all his sermons on his iPhone – he uses something called Predictable Text..."

What it says on the sign

At a towing company: "We don't charge an arm and a leg. We want your tows instead."

On a maternity room door: "Push. Push. Push."

At an optometrist's office: "If you don't see what you're looking for, you've come to the right place."

In a podiatrist's office: "Time wounds all heels."

On a house's fence: "Salespeople welcome! Dog food is expensive."

At a car dealership: "The best way to get back on your feet - miss a car payment."

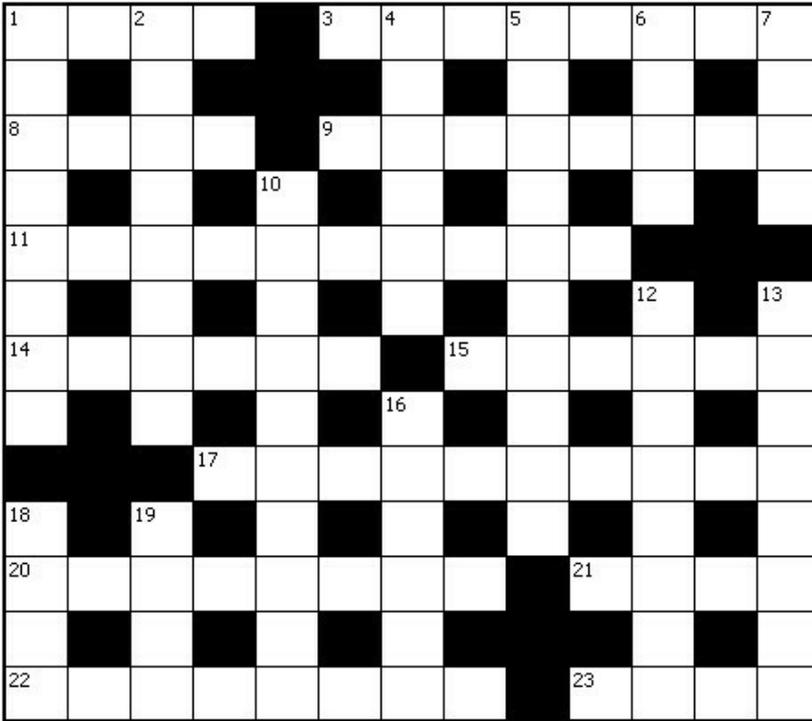

Outside a muffler shop: "No appointment necessary. We hear you coming."

In a veterinarian's waiting room: "Be back in five minutes. Sit! Stay!"

At the electric company: "We would be de-lighted if you pay your bill. However, if you don't, you will be."

In a restaurant window: "Don't stand there and be hungry. Come on in and get fed up."

In the front yard of a funeral home: "Drive carefully. We're happy to wait."

Rich Oatcakes

Ingredients

- 3 oz plain flour
- ½ tsp salt
- 2 level tsp bicarbonate of soda
- 2 level tsp cream of tartar
- 1lb oatmeal
- 2 oz sugar
- 4 oz butter or margarine
- Milk

Method

Sift the flour, salt, soda and cream of tartar. Add the oatmeal and sugar and rub in the fat. Add enough milk to mix to a stiff, but not hard, dough. Dust the baking board with a mixture of flour and oatmeal and roll out thinly. Rub the surface with oatmeal, cut into circles or triangles and place on a greased baking sheet. Bake at 150° for 20-30 minutes.

Each of the nine blocks must have one of each of the nine pictures placed in it.

No row of 9 or column of 9 can have any picture repeated.

You have exactly the correct number of pieces below to complete this puzzle, cut them out and place them in the correct places.

Example:- look at the top 3 grids, you need to place a chalice in the far right grid in the top row, look down the far right block of grids - you will see that there is only one place where the chalice can go.

Checklist:-

- Bell
- Candle
- Peace
- Cross
- Cup of tea
- Praying hands
- Treble clef
- Good Shepherd
- Chalice
